Autumn Term (Week 9) – Friday 7th November 2025

Team R Exploring Space

Team R have been busy blasting off into space through their continuous provision – that’s all the exciting play-based learning activities set up around the classroom that help children explore ideas in hands-on ways. The children have loved their space station role-play area, using imagination, teamwork and language skills to plan missions and communicate with fellow astronauts! They’ve also been discovering meteor rocks in the sandpit, developing curiosity, problem-solving and fine motor skills, as well as creating their own meteor rocks from play dough to practise counting, shaping and comparing sizes. What an exciting adventure in learning!

Attendance Heroes

Well done to our attendance Heroes this week!

Team 4 put their Campsites on the Map

What a brilliant week it has been in Team 4! The children have risen to the challenge and created eye-catching posters advertising their very own imaginary campsite, complete with its precise location on the globe. Drawing on their learning about latitude and longitude, they’ve pinpointed exactly where their site sits and explained why it’s the perfect spot for adventure and fresh air. The posters show that geography isn’t just about maps—it’s about making choices and explaining them too. Huge congratulations to Team 4 for combining creativity with real geographic thinking.

Team 3 – Printing with a Twist

Team 3 have been having a fantastic time in their Art lesson, discovering all the amazing marks and textures they can make using everyday classroom objects. As part of their printmaking block, linked to their Rocks science topic, they used found objects like glue-stick lids, fans, pots and more to press into clay or plasticine, creating impressions and textures. They then inked and rolled these surfaces to print on paper—learning how different objects make different patterns, and how prints look different on different surfaces. What fun and creative learning.

Parents’ Evening Success

A huge thank you to all our parents, carers and guardians who came along to Parents’ Evening! It’s such an important chance to celebrate children’s progress together and share how proud we are of their hard work, curiosity and kindness. Your support makes such a difference — we love working in partnership with you!
