Online Safety – Helpful Resources for Parents

We all know how quickly children’s online worlds can change — new apps, games and trends seem to appear every week. To help you stay one step ahead, we’ve added a whole section on our school website dedicated to online safety. There you’ll find simple, practical guides for parents on popular games and apps like Roblox, WhatsApp, Minecraft, TikTok and YouTube, as well as advice on social media and even AI. Each guide offers easy tips to help keep children safe and confident online. You can find it all here:

Suffolk Police Visit Our School

On Tuesday 7th October, we were delighted to welcome Katie from the Suffolk Rural Policing Team to our school. Katie visited every classroom and spoke to the children about the important work the police do to help keep our community safe. At lunchtime, excitement filled the playground as Katie brought the police car onto the school grounds. Children were thrilled to have the chance to sit inside—both the front and the back—and, of course, to hear the sirens blare across the playground. Visits like this are such a valuable part of our curriculum. They help children understand that the police are friendly, helpful members of our community who are there to keep everyone safe and lend a hand when people need help. A big thank you to Katie and the Suffolk Rural Policing Team for such an exciting and memorable day.

What’s Cooking at East Bergholt

It’s been a tasty week in school. Team 6 have been exploring street foods from different cultures, learning how to make high-quality, appetising snacks. They practised the bridge and claw techniques to chop, slice and dice ingredients safely before making their own Mexican burritos. Team 3 have been learning about balanced diets and looking at foods that are often bought ready-made. They used peelers, knives and the oven to make their own fruity yoghurts from scratch – a healthy and delicious treat. Well done to all of our budding chefs.
