1. Black History Month Day

Mrs Collins and Mrs Felgate spoke to the School Council about our upcoming Black History Month Day.

We discussed how the day will be a chance for the whole school to celebrate Black history, culture and identity and to learn from the experiences and achievements of others.

2. The Proudest Blue

As part of the day, we will be celebrating the book The Proudest Blue by Ibtihaj Muhammad and S. K. Ali.

We talked about some of the important themes in the book, including:

- being proud of who you are
- celebrating differences
- kindness and respect
- standing up for yourself and others
- accepting and valuing people from different backgrounds

School Council representatives will talk to their classes about the book and help gather ideas for how we could celebrate it across the school.

3. Snack

We discussed having a special snack as part of our Black History Month Day.

School Council representatives shared some initial ideas and agreed that they would speak to their classes to find out what snack the children would like.

Ideas we came up with included: Iced cookies and blue ice pops.

The children also suggested wearing a blue accessory for the day.
